

End-to-end simulation and analysis workflow

Common detector-side mass model: focused photons and all background sources are transported in the same complete detector-cryostat model for each design version

